Re: Recommendation of the equity share exchange ratio for the purpose of the proposed amalgamation of Future Market Network Limited into Future Enterprises Limited (as per the composite scheme of merger).

Dear Madams / Sirs,

We refer to the engagement letter whereby, Future Enterprises Limited ("FEL," "Client") have appointed us on behalf of FEL, Future Retail Limited ("FRL"), Future Lifestyle Fashions Limited ("FLFL"), Future Supply Chain Solutions Limited ("FSCSL"), Future Consumer Limited ("FCL") and Future Market Network Limited ("FMNL"), in relation to carrying out the scope of work elaborated below for a composite scheme of merger (the "Proposed Scheme" or "Scheme"). All the companies mentioned above shall collectively be referred to as "Part A Companies" for the purpose of this letter. FEL has confirmed it is duly authorized on behalf of the Part A Companies to appoint us for the purpose of this engagement.

Our scope of work is the valuation of Part A Companies and recommending a swap ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation of the Part A Companies into resultant FEL company ("Part A Merged Entity").

APPROACH – BASIS OF AMALGAMATION

The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Amalgamation under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.

Arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purposes of an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation, would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on a relative basis, and without considering the effect of the merger.

The three main valuation approaches are the market approach, income approach and asset approach. There are several commonly used and accepted methods within the market approach, income approach and asset approach, for determining the relative fair value of equity shares of a company, which can be considered in the present valuation exercise, to the extent relevant and applicable, to arrive at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation, such as:

1. Asset Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) Method
2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method
3. Market Approach
 - Market Price Method
 - Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method
 - Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies/ businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of method of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methods adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Asset Approach - Net Asset Value Method

Under the asset approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities of the company, taking into account operating assets and liabilities on a book value basis and appropriate adjustments for, inter alia, value of surplus/ non-operating assets.

Income Approach: Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted or capitalised) amount. The value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

- Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method: Under this method, either:
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to all providers of capital are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital to such capital providers, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows is the value of the business from which value of debt and other capital is deducted, and other relevant adjustments made to arrive at the value of the equity – Free Cash Flows to Firm (FCFF) technique; This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk; or
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to equity shareholders (after deducting cash flows attributable to the debt and other capital providers) are discounted at the cost of equity, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows, after making other relevant adjustments, is the value of the equity - Free Cash Flows to Equity (FCFE) technique. This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to the equity capital providers. The opportunity cost to the equity capital provider equals the rate of return such equity capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

Market Approach: Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business.

- Market Price Method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalisation of the equity shares of such company as quoted on a recognised stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of an amalgamation, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard. This method would also cover any other transactions in the shares of the company including primary/ preferential issues/ open offer in the shares of the company available in the public domain.

- Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public/ listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company/ business (based on past and/ or projected working results) after making adjustments to the derived multiples on account of dissimilarities with the comparable companies and the strengths, weaknesses and other factors peculiar to the company being valued. These valuations are based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.
- Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the market multiples of publicly disclosed transactions in similar space as the respective companies being evaluated. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

Out of the above methods, we have used approaches/ methods as considered appropriate. The valuation approaches/ methods used, and the values arrived at using such approaches/ methods by us have been tabled in the next section of this Report.

BASIS OF EQUITY SHARE EXCHANGE RATIO

The basis of the Proposed Amalgamation would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors, approaches and methods considered appropriate by the Valuers. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above approaches/ methods, for the purposes of recommending the Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive at a single value for the shares of the companies involved in an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of an Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approach/ method.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheet but which will strongly influence the worth of a share.

The determination of an exchange ratio is not a precise science and the conclusions arrived at in many cases will, of necessity, be subjective and dependent on the exercise of individual judgment. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. There is, therefore, no indisputable single exchange ratio. While we have provided our recommendation of the Equity Share Exchange Ratio based on the information available to us and within the scope and constraints of our engagement, others may have a different opinion as to the Equity Share Exchange Ratio of the equity shares of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. The final responsibility for the determination of the exchange ratio at which the Proposed Amalgamation shall take place will be with the Board of Directors of the respective Part A Companies who should take into account other factors such as their own assessment of the Proposed Amalgamation and input of other advisors.

The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of FEL and the respective Part A Companies based on the various approaches/ methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of these companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, and arrived at their assessment of the relative values per equity share of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. To arrive at the consensus on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation, suitable minor adjustments/ rounding off has been done in the relative values arrived at.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation whose computation is as under:

The Computation of Equity Share Exchange Ratio as derived by BSR, is given below:

Valuation Approach	Future Market Network Limited		Future Enterprises Limited
	Value per Share (INR)	Weight	Value per Share (INR)	Weight
Income Approach	21.68	50%	12.79	50%
Market Approach (Market Price)	15.01	25%	11.56	25%
Market Approach (CCM)	36.44	25%	14.39	25%
Relative Value per Share	23.70	100%	12.88	100%
Exchange Ratio (rounded off)	1.8

Note:

(1) The scope carried out by BSR was based on the projections provided for Part A Companies only. Any other company, if included as a part of the Proposed Amalgamation is not in our scope of work and, based on instructions from the Client, have been considered at nil value. Accordingly any such companies, do not impact the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

(2) The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at, after considering Class B (Series 1) shares of FEL, as well as ESOPs of the respective companies, where the exercise price was below the market price.

Valuer's Notes:

For the present valuation analysis, we have considered it appropriate to apply the Income Approach and the Market Approach (Market Price and CCM), to arrive at the relative fair value of the equity shares of the companies for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation.

In the current analysis, the amalgamation of the companies is proceeded with on the assumption that the companies would merge as going concerns (subject to the implementation of the composite scheme of merger) and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book and non-operating/ surplus assets, if any at their fair values under the Asset Approach. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power, as reflected under the Income and Market approaches, is of greater importance to the basis of amalgamation/ merger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance. Hence, the Asset Approach has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Given the nature of the businesses of the companies and the fact that we have been provided by the Part A Companies with their projected financials, we have considered it appropriate to apply the DCF Method under the Income Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares of the Part A Companies for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

In the present case, the equity shares of both the companies, FEL and FCL, are listed on BSE and NSE. Please note that for Market Price Method, we have considered market price movements till 10 June 2020 given that there has been significant movement in share price for Part A Companies on account of market speculations of this transaction post this date. We have also applied the CCM Method under the Market Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Similarly, in the absence of any comparable transactions similar to the companies being evaluated as a part of this Report, the Market Approach (CTM) has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Ratio:

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation:

18 (Eighteen only) equity share of FEL of INR 2/- each fully paid up for every 10 (Ten only) equity shares of FMNL of INR 10/- each fully paid up.

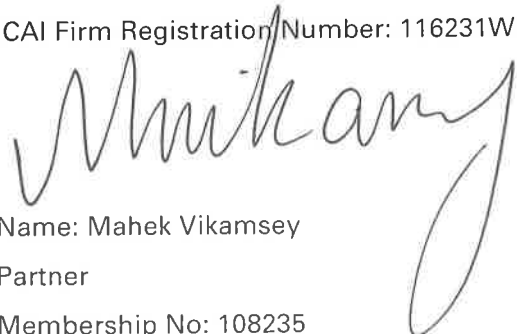

Our Valuation Report and Equity Share Exchange Ratio is based on the equity share capital structure of FEL and the respective Part A Companies as mentioned earlier in this Report. Any variation in the equity capital of FEL and the respective Part A Companies may have material impact on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Re: Recommendation of the equity share exchange ratio for the purpose of the proposed amalgamation of Future Lifestyle Fashions Limited into Future Enterprises Limited (as per the composite scheme of merger).

Dear Madams / Sirs,

We refer to the engagement letter whereby, Future Enterprises Limited ("FEL," "Client") have appointed us on behalf of FEL, Future Retail Limited ("FRL"), Future Lifestyle Fashions Limited ("FLFL"), Future Supply Chain Solutions Limited ("FSCSL"), Future Consumer Limited ("FCL") and Future Market Network Limited ("FMNL"), in relation to carrying out the scope of work elaborated below for a composite scheme of merger (the "Proposed Scheme" or "Scheme"). All the companies mentioned above shall collectively be referred to as "Part A Companies" for the purpose of this letter. FEL has confirmed it is duly authorized on behalf of the Part A Companies to appoint us for the purpose of this engagement.

APPROACH – BASIS OF AMALGAMATION

The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Amalgamation under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.

Arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purposes of an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation, would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on a relative basis, and without considering the effect of the merger.

The three main valuation approaches are the market approach, income approach and asset approach. There are several commonly used and accepted methods within the market approach, income approach and asset approach, for determining the relative fair value of equity shares of a company, which can be considered in the present valuation exercise, to the extent relevant and applicable, to arrive at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation, such as:

1. Asset Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) Method
2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method
3. Market Approach
 - Market Price Method
 - Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method
 - Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies/businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of method of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methods adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Asset Approach - Net Asset Value Method

Under the asset approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities of the company, taking into account operating assets and liabilities on a book value basis and appropriate adjustments for, inter alia, value of surplus/ non-operating assets.

Income Approach: Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted or capitalised) amount. The value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

- Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method: Under this method, either:
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to all providers of capital are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital to such capital providers, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows is the value of the business from which value of debt and other capital is deducted, and other relevant adjustments made to arrive at the value of the equity – Free Cash Flows to Firm (FCFF) technique; This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk; or
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to equity shareholders (after deducting cash flows attributable to the debt and other capital providers) are discounted at the cost of equity, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows, after making other relevant adjustments, is the value of the equity - Free Cash Flows to Equity (FCFE) technique. This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to the equity capital providers. The opportunity cost to the equity capital provider equals the rate of return such equity capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

Market Approach: Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business.

- Market Price Method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalisation of the equity shares of such company as quoted on a recognised stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of an amalgamation, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard. This method would also cover any other transactions in the shares of the company including primary/ preferential issues/ open offer in the shares of the company available in the public domain.

- Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public/ listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company/ business (based on past and/ or projected working results) after making adjustments to the derived multiples on account of dissimilarities with the comparable companies and the strengths, weaknesses and other factors peculiar to the company being valued. These valuations are based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.
- Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the market multiples of publicly disclosed transactions in similar space as the respective companies being evaluated. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

Out of the above methods, we have used approaches/ methods as considered appropriate. The valuation approaches/ methods used, and the values arrived at using such approaches/ methods by us have been tabled in the next section of this Report.

BASIS OF EQUITY SHARE EXCHANGE RATIO

The basis of the Proposed Amalgamation would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors, approaches and methods considered appropriate by the Valuers. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above approaches/ methods, for the purposes of recommending the Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive at a single value for the shares of the companies involved in an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of an Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approach/ method.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheet but which will strongly influence the worth of a share.

The determination of an exchange ratio is not a precise science and the conclusions arrived at in many cases will, of necessity, be subjective and dependent on the exercise of individual judgment. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. There is, therefore, no indisputable single exchange ratio. While we have provided our recommendation of the Equity Share Exchange Ratio based on the information available to us and within the scope and constraints of our engagement, others may have a different opinion as to the Equity Share Exchange Ratio of the equity shares of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. The final responsibility for the determination of the exchange ratio at which the Proposed Amalgamation shall take place will be with the Board of Directors of the respective Part A Companies who should take into account other factors such as their own assessment of the Proposed Amalgamation and input of other advisors.

The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of FEL and the respective Part A Companies based on the various approaches/ methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of these companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, and arrived at their assessment of the relative values per equity share of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. To arrive at the consensus on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation, suitable minor adjustments/ rounding off has been done in the relative values arrived at.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation whose computation is as under:

The Computation of Equity Share Exchange Ratio as derived by BSR, is given below:

Valuation Approach	Future Lifestyle Fashions Limited		Future Enterprises Limited
	Value per Share (INR)	Weight	Value per Share (INR)	Weight
Income Approach	133.41	50%	12.79	50%
Market Approach (Market Price)	146.97	25%	11.56	25%
Market Approach (CCM)	185.97	25%	14.39	25%
Relative Value per Share	149.94	100%	12.88	100%
Exchange Ratio (rounded off)			11.6

Note:

(1) The scope carried out by BSR was based on the projections provided for Part A Companies only. Any other company, if included as a part of the Proposed Amalgamation is not in our scope of work and, based on instructions from the Client, have been considered at nil value. Accordingly any such companies, do not impact the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

(2) The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at, after considering Class B (Series 1) shares of FEL, as well as ESOPs of the respective companies, where the exercise price was below the market price.

Valuer's Notes:

For the present valuation analysis, we have considered it appropriate to apply the Income Approach and the Market Approach (Market Price and CCM), to arrive at the relative fair value of the equity shares of the companies for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation.

In the current analysis, the amalgamation of the companies is proceeded with on the assumption that the companies would merge as going concerns (subject to the implementation of the composite scheme of merger) and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book and non-operating/ surplus assets, if any at their fair values under the Asset Approach. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power, as reflected under the Income and Market approaches, is of greater importance to the basis of amalgamation/ merger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance. Hence, the Asset Approach has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Given the nature of the businesses of the companies and the fact that we have been provided by the Part A Companies with their projected financials, we have considered it appropriate to apply the DCF Method under the Income Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares of the Part A Companies for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

In the present case, the equity shares of both the companies, FEL and FCL, are listed on BSE and NSE. Please note that for Market Price Method, we have considered market price movements till 10 June 2020 given that there has been significant movement in share price for Part A Companies on account of market speculations of this transaction post this date. We have also applied the CCM Method under the Market Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Similarly, in the absence of any comparable transactions similar to the companies being evaluated as a part of this Report, the Market Approach (CTM) has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Ratio:

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation:

116 (One hundred and sixteen only) equity share of FEL of INR 2/- each fully paid up for every 10 (Ten only) equity shares of FLFL of INR 2/- each fully paid up.

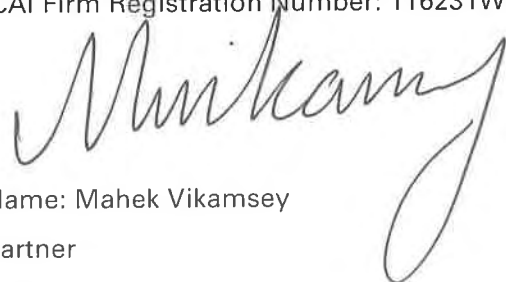

Our Valuation Report and Equity Share Exchange Ratio is based on the equity share capital structure of FEL and the respective Part A Companies as mentioned earlier in this Report. Any variation in the equity capital of FEL and the respective Part A Companies may have material impact on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

APPROACH – BASIS OF AMALGAMATION

The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Amalgamation under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.

Arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purposes of an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation, would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on a relative basis, and without considering the effect of the merger.

The three main valuation approaches are the market approach, income approach and asset approach. There are several commonly used and accepted methods within the market approach, income approach and asset approach, for determining the relative fair value of equity shares of a company, which can be considered in the present valuation exercise, to the extent relevant and applicable, to arrive at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation, such as:

1. Asset Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) Method
2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method
3. Market Approach
 - Market Price Method
 - Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method
 - Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies/businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of method of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methods adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Asset Approach - Net Asset Value Method

Under the asset approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities of the company, taking into account operating assets and liabilities on a book value basis and appropriate adjustments for, inter alia, value of surplus/ non-operating assets.

Income Approach: Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted or capitalised) amount. The value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

- Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method: Under this method, either:
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to all providers of capital are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital to such capital providers, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows is the value of the business from which value of debt and other capital is deducted, and other relevant adjustments made to arrive at the value of the equity – Free Cash Flows to Firm (FCFF) technique; This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk; or
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to equity shareholders (after deducting cash flows attributable to the debt and other capital providers) are discounted at the cost of equity, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows, after making other relevant adjustments, is the value of the equity - Free Cash Flows to Equity (FCFE) technique. This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to the equity capital providers. The opportunity cost to the equity capital provider equals the rate of return such equity capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

Market Approach: Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business.

- Market Price Method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalisation of the equity shares of such company as quoted on a recognised stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of an amalgamation, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard. This method would also cover any other transactions in the shares of the company including primary/ preferential issues/ open offer in the shares of the company available in the public domain.

- Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public/ listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company/ business (based on past and/ or projected working results) after making adjustments to the derived multiples on account of dissimilarities with the comparable companies and the strengths, weaknesses and other factors peculiar to the company being valued. These valuations are based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.
- Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the market multiples of publicly disclosed transactions in similar space as the respective companies being evaluated. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

Out of the above methods, we have used approaches/ methods as considered appropriate. The valuation approaches/ methods used, and the values arrived at using such approaches/ methods by us have been tabled in the next section of this Report.

BASIS OF EQUITY SHARE EXCHANGE RATIO

The basis of the Proposed Amalgamation would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors, approaches and methods considered appropriate by the Valuers. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above approaches/ methods, for the purposes of recommending the Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive at a single value for the shares of the companies involved in an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of an Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approach/ method.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheet but which will strongly influence the worth of a share.

The determination of an exchange ratio is not a precise science and the conclusions arrived at in many cases will, of necessity, be subjective and dependent on the exercise of individual judgment. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. There is, therefore, no indisputable single exchange ratio. While we have provided our recommendation of the Equity Share Exchange Ratio based on the information available to us and within the scope and constraints of our engagement, others may have a different opinion as to the Equity Share Exchange Ratio of the equity shares of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. The final responsibility for the determination of the exchange ratio at which the Proposed Amalgamation shall take place will be with the Board of Directors of the respective Part A Companies who should take into account other factors such as their own assessment of the Proposed Amalgamation and input of other advisors.

The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of FEL and the respective Part A Companies based on the various approaches/ methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of these companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, and arrived at their assessment of the relative values per equity share of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. To arrive at the consensus on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation, suitable minor adjustments/ rounding off has been done in the relative values arrived at.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation whose computation is as under:

The Computation of Equity Share Exchange Ratio as derived by BSR, is given below:

Valuation Approach	Future Retail Limited		Future Enterprises Limited
	Value per Share (INR)	Weight	Value per Share (INR)	Weight
Income Approach	155.88	50%	12.79	50%
Market Approach (Market Price)	95.06	25%	11.56	25%
Market Approach (CCM)	115.48	25%	14.39	25%
Relative Value per Share	130.57	100%	12.88	100%
Exchange Ratio (rounded off)	10.1

Note:

(1) The scope carried out by BSR was based on the projections provided for Part A Companies only. Any other company, if included as a part of the Proposed Amalgamation is not in our scope of work and, based on instructions from the Client, have been considered at nil value. Accordingly any such companies, do not impact the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

(2) The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at, after considering Class B (Series 1) shares of FEL, as well as ESOPs of the respective companies, where the exercise price was below the market price.

Valuer's Notes:

For the present valuation analysis, we have considered it appropriate to apply the Income Approach and the Market Approach (Market Price and CCM), to arrive at the relative fair value of the equity shares of the companies for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation.

In the current analysis, the amalgamation of the companies is proceeded with on the assumption that the companies would merge as going concerns (subject to the implementation of the composite scheme of merger) and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book and non-operating/ surplus assets, if any at their fair values under the Asset Approach. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power, as reflected under the Income and Market approaches, is of greater importance to the basis of amalgamation/ merger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance. Hence, the Asset Approach has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Given the nature of the businesses of the companies and the fact that we have been provided by the Part A Companies with their projected financials, we have considered it appropriate to apply the DCF Method under the Income Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares of the Part A Companies for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

In the present case, the equity shares of both the companies, FEL and FCL, are listed on BSE and NSE. Please note that for Market Price Method, we have considered market price movements till 10 June 2020 given that there has been significant movement in share price for Part A Companies on account of market speculations of this transaction post this date. We have also applied the CCM Method under the Market Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Similarly, in the absence of any comparable transactions similar to the companies being evaluated as a part of this Report, the Market Approach (CTM) has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Ratio:

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation:

101 (One hundred and one only) equity share of FEL of INR 2/- each fully paid up for every 10 (Ten only) equity shares of FRL of INR 2/- each fully paid up.

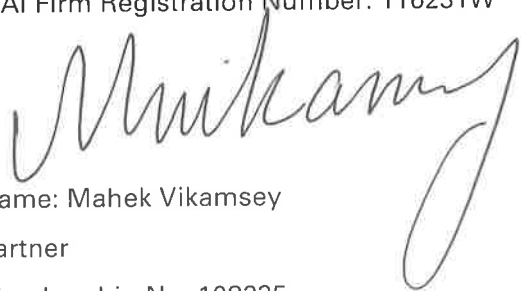

Our Valuation Report and Equity Share Exchange Ratio is based on the equity share capital structure of FEL and the respective Part A Companies as mentioned earlier in this Report. Any variation in the equity capital of FEL and the respective Part A Companies may have material impact on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

APPROACH – BASIS OF AMALGAMATION

The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Amalgamation under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.

Arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purposes of an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation, would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on a relative basis, and without considering the effect of the merger.

The three main valuation approaches are the market approach, income approach and asset approach. There are several commonly used and accepted methods within the market approach, income approach and asset approach, for determining the relative fair value of equity shares of a company, which can be considered in the present valuation exercise, to the extent relevant and applicable, to arrive at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation, such as:

1. Asset Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) Method
2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method
3. Market Approach
 - Market Price Method
 - Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method
 - Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies/businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of method of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methods adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Asset Approach - Net Asset Value Method

Under the asset approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities of the company, taking into account operating assets and liabilities on a book value basis and appropriate adjustments for, inter alia, value of surplus/ non-operating assets.

Income Approach: Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted or capitalised) amount. The value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

- Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method: Under this method, either:
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to all providers of capital are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital to such capital providers, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows is the value of the business from which value of debt and other capital is deducted, and other relevant adjustments made to arrive at the value of the equity – Free Cash Flows to Firm (FCFF) technique; This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk; or
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to equity shareholders (after deducting cash flows attributable to the debt and other capital providers) are discounted at the cost of equity, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows, after making other relevant adjustments, is the value of the equity - Free Cash Flows to Equity (FCFE) technique. This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to the equity capital providers. The opportunity cost to the equity capital provider equals the rate of return such equity capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

Market Approach: Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business.

- Market Price Method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalisation of the equity shares of such company as quoted on a recognised stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of an amalgamation, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard. This method would also cover any other transactions in the shares of the company including primary/ preferential issues/ open offer in the shares of the company available in the public domain.

- Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public/ listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company/ business (based on past and/ or projected working results) after making adjustments to the derived multiples on account of dissimilarities with the comparable companies and the strengths, weaknesses and other factors peculiar to the company being valued. These valuations are based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.
- Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the market multiples of publicly disclosed transactions in similar space as the respective companies being evaluated. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

Out of the above methods, we have used approaches/ methods as considered appropriate. The valuation approaches/ methods used, and the values arrived at using such approaches/ methods by us have been tabled in the next section of this Report.

BASIS OF EQUITY SHARE EXCHANGE RATIO

The basis of the Proposed Amalgamation would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors, approaches and methods considered appropriate by the Valuers. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above approaches/ methods, for the purposes of recommending the Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive at a single value for the shares of the companies involved in an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of an Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approach/ method.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheet but which will strongly influence the worth of a share.

The determination of an exchange ratio is not a precise science and the conclusions arrived at in many cases will, of necessity, be subjective and dependent on the exercise of individual judgment. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. There is, therefore, no indisputable single exchange ratio. While we have provided our recommendation of the Equity Share Exchange Ratio based on the information available to us and within the scope and constraints of our engagement, others may have a different opinion as to the Equity Share Exchange Ratio of the equity shares of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. The final responsibility for the determination of the exchange ratio at which the Proposed Amalgamation shall take place will be with the Board of Directors of the respective Part A Companies who should take into account other factors such as their own assessment of the Proposed Amalgamation and input of other advisors.

The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of FEL and the respective Part A Companies based on the various approaches/ methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of these companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, and arrived at their assessment of the relative values per equity share of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. To arrive at the consensus on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation, suitable minor adjustments/ rounding off has been done in the relative values arrived at.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation whose computation is as under:

The Computation of Equity Share Exchange Ratio as derived by BSR, is given below:

Valuation Approach	Future Supply Chain Solutions Limited		Future Enterprises Limited
	Value per Share (INR)	Weight	Value per Share (INR)	Weight
Income Approach	208.38	50%	12.79	50%
Market Approach (Market Price)	123.51	25%	11.56	25%
Market Approach (CCM)	132.50	25%	14.39	25%
Relative Value per Share	168.19	100%	12.88	100%
Exchange Ratio (rounded off)	13.1

Note:

(1) The scope carried out by BSR was based on the projections provided for the Part A Companies only. Any other company, if included as a part of the Proposed Amalgamation is not in our scope of work and, based on instructions from the Client, have been considered at nil value. Accordingly any such companies, do not impact the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

(2) The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at, after considering Class B (Series 1) shares of FEL, as well as ESOPs of the respective companies, where the exercise price was below the market price.

Valuer's Notes:

For the present valuation analysis, we have considered it appropriate to apply the Income Approach and the Market Approach (Market Price and CCM), to arrive at the relative fair value of the equity shares of the companies for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation.

In the current analysis, the amalgamation of the companies is proceeded with on the assumption that the companies would merge as going concerns (subject to the implementation of the composite scheme of merger) and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book and non-operating/ surplus assets, if any at their fair values under the Asset Approach. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power, as reflected under the Income and Market approaches, is of greater importance to the basis of amalgamation/ merger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance. Hence, the Asset Approach has not

Given the nature of the businesses of the companies and the fact that we have been provided by the Part A Companies with their projected financials, we have considered it appropriate to apply the DCF Method under the Income Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares of the Part A Companies for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

In the present case, the equity shares of both the companies, FEL and FCL, are listed on BSE and NSE. Please note that for Market Price Method, we have considered market price movements till 10 June 2020 given that there has been significant movement in share price for Part A Companies on account of market speculations of this transaction post this date. We have also applied the CCM Method under the Market Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Similarly, in the absence of any comparable transactions similar to the companies being evaluated as a part of this Report, the Market Approach (CTM) has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Ratio:

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation:

131 (One hundred and thirty one only) equity share of FEL of INR 2/- each fully paid up for every 10 (Ten only) equity shares of FSCL of INR 10/- each fully paid up.

Our Valuation Report and Equity Share Exchange Ratio is based on the equity share capital structure of FEL and the respective Part A Companies as mentioned earlier in this Report. Any variation in the equity capital of FEL and the respective Part A Companies may have material impact on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

APPROACH – BASIS OF AMALGAMATION

The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Amalgamation under Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules issued thereunder to the extent applicable.

Arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purposes of an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation, would require determining the relative values of each company involved and of their shares. These values are to be determined independently but on a relative basis, and without considering the effect of the merger.

The three main valuation approaches are the market approach, income approach and asset approach. There are several commonly used and accepted methods within the market approach, income approach and asset approach, for determining the relative fair value of equity shares of a company, which can be considered in the present valuation exercise, to the extent relevant and applicable, to arrive at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation, such as:

1. Asset Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) Method
2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method
3. Market Approach
 - Market Price Method
 - Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method
 - Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the companies/businesses, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of method of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methods adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

Asset Approach - Net Asset Value Method

Under the asset approach, the net asset value method is considered, which is based on the underlying net assets and liabilities of the company, taking into account operating assets and liabilities on a book value basis and appropriate adjustments for, inter alia, value of surplus/ non-operating assets.

Income Approach: Income approach is a valuation approach that converts maintainable or future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted or capitalised) amount. The value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

- Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method: Under this method, either:
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to all providers of capital are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital to such capital providers, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows is the value of the business from which value of debt and other capital is deducted, and other relevant adjustments made to arrive at the value of the equity – Free Cash Flows to Firm (FCFF) technique; This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk; or
 - the projected free cash flows from business operations available to equity shareholders (after deducting cash flows attributable to the debt and other capital providers) are discounted at the cost of equity, on a market participant basis, and the sum of such discounted free cash flows, after making other relevant adjustments, is the value of the equity - Free Cash Flows to Equity (FCFE) technique. This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to the equity capital providers. The opportunity cost to the equity capital provider equals the rate of return such equity capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

Market Approach: Market approach is a valuation approach that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business.

- Market Price Method: Under this method, the value of shares of a company is determined by taking the average of the market capitalisation of the equity shares of such company as quoted on a recognised stock exchange over reasonable periods of time where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in an active market, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the market price. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of an amalgamation, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard. This method would also cover any other transactions in the shares of the company including primary/ preferential issues/ open offer in the shares of the company available in the public domain.

- Comparable Companies Multiples (CCM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the derived market multiple based on market quotations of comparable public/ listed companies, in an active market, possessing attributes similar to the business of such company - to the relevant financial parameter of the company/ business (based on past and/ or projected working results) after making adjustments to the derived multiples on account of dissimilarities with the comparable companies and the strengths, weaknesses and other factors peculiar to the company being valued. These valuations are based on the principle that such market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.
- Comparable Transactions Multiples (CTM) Method: Under this method, one attempts to measure the value of the shares/ business of company by applying the market multiples of publicly disclosed transactions in similar space as the respective companies being evaluated. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

Out of the above methods, we have used approaches/ methods as considered appropriate. The valuation approaches/ methods used, and the values arrived at using such approaches/ methods by us have been tabled in the next section of this Report.

BASIS OF EQUITY SHARE EXCHANGE RATIO

The basis of the Proposed Amalgamation would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors, approaches and methods considered appropriate by the Valuers. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above approaches/ methods, for the purposes of recommending the Equity Share Exchange Ratio it is necessary to arrive at a single value for the shares of the companies involved in an amalgamation such as the Proposed Amalgamation. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute values of the shares of the companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of an Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approach/ method.

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be arrived at by the exercise of judicious discretion by the valuer and judgments taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheet but which will strongly influence the worth of a share.

The determination of an exchange ratio is not a precise science and the conclusions arrived at in many cases will, of necessity, be subjective and dependent on the exercise of individual judgment. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. There is, therefore, no indisputable single exchange ratio. While we have provided our recommendation of the Equity Share Exchange Ratio based on the information available to us and within the scope and constraints of our engagement, others may have a different opinion as to the Equity Share Exchange Ratio of the equity shares of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. The final responsibility for the determination of the exchange ratio at which the Proposed Amalgamation shall take place will be with the Board of Directors of the respective Part A Companies who should take into account other factors such as their own assessment of the Proposed Amalgamation and input of other advisors.

The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of FEL and the respective Part A Companies based on the various approaches/ methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of these companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, and arrived at their assessment of the relative values per equity share of FEL and the respective Part A Companies. To arrive at the consensus on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation, suitable minor adjustments/ rounding off has been done in the relative values arrived at.

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation whose computation is as under:

The Computation of Equity Share Exchange Ratio as derived by BSR, is given below:

Valuation Approach	Future Consumer Limited		Future Enterprises Limited
	Value per Share (INR)	Weight	Value per Share (INR)	Weight
Income Approach	13.59	50%	12.79	50%
Market Approach (Market Price)	8.31	25%	11.56	25%
Market Approach (CCM)	11.05	25%	14.39	25%
Relative Value per Share	11.64	100%	12.88	100%
Exchange Ratio (rounded off)	0.9

Note:

(1) The scope carried out by BSR was based on the projections provided for Part A Companies only. Any other company, if included as a part of the Proposed Amalgamation is not in our scope of work and, based on instructions from the Client, have been considered at nil value. Accordingly any such companies, do not impact the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

(2) The Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at, after considering Class B (Series 1) shares of FEL, as well as ESOPs of the respective companies, where the exercise price was below the market price.

Valuer's Notes:

For the present valuation analysis, we have considered it appropriate to apply the Income Approach and the Market Approach (Market Price and CCM), to arrive at the relative fair value of the equity shares of the companies for the purpose of the Proposed Amalgamation.

In the current analysis, the amalgamation of the companies is proceeded with on the assumption that the companies would merge as going concerns (subject to the implementation of the composite scheme of merger) and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book and non-operating/ surplus assets, if any at their fair values under the Asset Approach. In such a going concern scenario, the relative earning power, as reflected under the Income and Market approaches, is of greater importance to the basis of amalgamation/ merger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance. Hence, the Asset Approach has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Given the nature of the businesses of the companies and the fact that we have been provided by the Part A Companies with their projected financials, we have considered it appropriate to apply the DCF Method under the Income Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares of the Part A Companies for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

In the present case, the equity shares of both the companies, FEL and FCL, are listed on BSE and NSE. Please note that for Market Price Method, we have considered market price movements till 10 June 2020 given that there has been significant movement in share price for Part A Companies on account of market speculations of this transaction post this date. We have also applied the CCM Method under the Market Approach to arrive at the relative fair value of the shares for the purpose of arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Similarly, in the absence of any comparable transactions similar to the companies being evaluated as a part of this Report, the Market Approach (CTM) has not been considered in arriving at the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.

Ratio:

In light of the above, and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined herein above, we recommend the following Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation:

9 (Nine only) equity share of FEL of INR 2/- each fully paid up for every 10 (Ten only) equity shares of FCL of INR 6/- each fully paid up.

Our Valuation Report and Equity Share Exchange Ratio is based on the equity share capital structure of FEL and the respective Part A Companies as mentioned earlier in this Report. Any variation in the equity capital of FEL and the respective Part A Companies may have material impact on the Equity Share Exchange Ratio.
